Cloud-Based Multi-Channel Communications Management Software

Automate and centralize your document preparation to personalize your customer communications and deliver them to the right person, at the right time and through their preferred channel using OMS-500. This easy-to-use cloud solution gives you full control over the preparation, enhancement and distribution of documents through multiple channels. This powerful software automatically collates information from various sources to send customers impactful communications, securely and cost-effectively: by email, physical mail, fax or via a web portal. No need for complex and costly IT involvement.

Operating on the award-winning Microsoft Azure platform, OMS-500 can now run exclusively in the Cloud - no local downloads required. OMS-500 Cloud eliminates costly infrastructure and devoting IT resources to managing software on company servers. The OMS-500 Cloud platform is highly scalable, allowing you to easily increase the volume of communications as your business grows.

Versions of OMS-500 are always up-to-date on the Cloud. There is no need to worry about time-consuming software upgrades and having the latest features available.

OMS-500 Cloud boasts a 99.5% guaranteed uptime. As a result, you are no longer reliant on your company's data center infrastructure, network connectivity, power supply and redundancy to ensure your communications properly reach the intended recipient in a timely manner.

Benefits of OMS-500 Cloud:

- No infrastructure needed
- No IT resources required
- Scalable
- Reliability with guaranteed uptime
- Version is always up-to-date
- Highly secure with Microsoft Azure Compliance Offerings
